Are you a PhD student or Early Career Researcher?

Are you researching in food production, chemical safety or sustainability?

Would your research benefit if you could travel (fully funded) to another institution in Europe?

We would like to invite all students, researchers and academic staff to learn about the Enviresearch Foundation. Here you will find out how to apply for funding in 2018

Please join us on

Wednesday 21st March 2018

Clement Stephenson Lecture Theatre in the Agriculture Building from 10:30 am until 12 noon
Followed by buffet lunch.

We will hear from two young scientists who received the travel award and a range of community and school projects.
